

I am commenting on behalf of KLOVE radio.
I have been listening to this station for several years and have a teenager who also listens. I strongly feel that this station provides good, clean, uplifting, and encouraging music and information to my family and my community. I can't imagine it being replaced by another station. There are already too many negative influences on our children on/in the media. We need to keep the positive ones on the air! KLOVE is one of these stations.
